

Sparkles Goes to Boston

Coming April 2009

The new children's fire safety book featuring firefighters from the Southborough Fire Department

Sparkles Goes to Boston

www.sparklesgoestoboston.com

Southborough Fire Department is the location of Author Dayna Hilton's next children's book. The book focuses on Sparkles' big trip to Southborough to visit Firefighter Jim Peltier and his friends at their fire station and will include fire safety tips based on Oklahoma State University Fire Protection Publication's comprehensive pre-school curriculum project for young children. Peltier, along with Sparkles and her two-legged friend, Firefighter Dayna, are the main characters of the book. Chief Mauro and firefighters from the department will also be featured in the book.

Photos for Sparkles Goes to Boston were taken June and July 2008 in Southborough.

Orders for Sparkles Goes to Boston taken September 1st to December 31st, 2008. More information may be found at www.sparklesgoestoboston.com